DANGER SIGNALS.

No engineer would be mad enough to run by the flag which signaled danger. It is different with the average man or woman. They attempt constantly to run by the danger signals of Nature and that attempt costs thousands of lives every year. When the appetite becomes irregular or entirely gives out, when sleep is troubled and broken, when there is a constant feeling of dullness and languor, Nature is hoisting the danger signal. The stomach and its allied organs are failing in their work and the body is losing the nutrition on which its strength depends.

Such a condition calls for a prompt use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, purifies and enriches the blood and builds up the body with sound, solid flesh.

"I have had so much benefit from your medicines am glad to say a few words that you may use for publication," writes Mrs. J. R. Downes, Crystal Lake, Conn. "Had been troubled with a complication of diseases for over two years, but kidneys and liver bothered me most. Some of my worst ailments were headache, frequent pains around heart and under right shoulder-blade. My hands and feet were cold nearly all the time, and I had such chilliness between shoulders. Some days cared but little for food; I lost flesh; felt so tired and miserable it seemed I couldn't do any housework. Took medicine from my physician, but received no benefit. Bought a bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and after taking it I felt so much better we determined to give it a fair trial. Appetite soon improved and gradually the disorders disappeared until now I am well."

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Manuell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '99, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

are caused by Indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of Indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart.

Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol
Dyspepsia Cure

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.
MRS. LORING NICHOLS, Penn Yan, N. Y.

I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.

THE CHICAGO STRIKE.

For the first time in Chicago since the strike of the American Railway Union in 1894 the government of the United States has been made a party to labor troubles. The government was brought into the teamsters' strike yesterday by the issuance of an injunction by Judge C. C Kohlsaat, of the United States Circuit Court. The writ was asked in behalf of the Employers' Teaming Association on the grounds that the organization is incorporated under the laws of West Virginia and is therefore under the protection of the Federal Court.

The federal order demands that all the defendants refrain from any interference with the business of the Employers' Teaming Association and commands the strikers to refrain from picketing, massing in streets with intent to interfere with the wagons of the complainant and from interfering in any manner with non-union men in its employ.

As soon as issued the injunction was printed on large cards and two of these were attached to every wagon of the Employers' Teaming Association. The injunction exerted a pacifying influence and there was less rioting in the streets than Thursday. A heavy thunderstorm during the latter part of the afternoon and the evening also lent material assistance in keeping the thoroughfare clear.

Twelve arrests were made for interference with the injunction, all of them being made at one time and place.

At 1.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon two wagons, with coal, approached the Union League Club, in Jackson Boulevard, and when they attempted to drive into a narrow alley east of the clubhouse to unload the non-union teamsters were attacked by strike sympathizers. A lively fight resulted. The wagons were plainly marked with copies of the injunction and the police, in charging the crowd, arrested 12 strikers, who are now confined in Harrison Street Police Station.

One hundred and five copies of the injunction were given to United States Marshal Ames for service on labor leaders, and five deputy marshals were sent out immediately to serve them. Most of the notices had been served by evening.

When news of the injunction reached President Shea, of the Teamsters' Union, he issued the following order, signed by the committee of teamsters' business agents:

"To All Union Teamsters: Permit no violation of the peace under any circumstances. Competent drivers cannot be procured to handle the teams in Chicago and violence will not help us in this strike. Be loyal to your union and obey its instructions."

The injunction writ is made returnable May 10, and the defendants will have a hearing on that day.

The strike spread steadily throughout the day. Most of the teamsters going out were those employed by small concerns. There are now about 3,500 teamsters on strike and their inaction has largely deprived about 15,000 other men of work.

It was impossible yesterday to have a package delivered to any address outside of the downtown business quarter from any of the large dry goods stores.

President Shea, of the Teamsters' Union, and President Dold, of the Chicago Federation of Labor, made efforts to secure conferences with the four brotherhoods of railway employees, but nothing has developed along this line. It is not probable, however, that any spread of the strike will be made in any direction outside of the Teamsters' Union until tomorrow, when all the organizations to which appeal has been made by the teamsters will hold meetings.

Three persons were injured during the street fighting yesterday.

Steady progress has been reported by the Employers' Teaming Association in securing men to take the places of the strikers, and it is predicted by the employers that before many days they will have their business back to a normal basis.

The full meaning of the strike was brought home to the public yesterday. Boycott against "struck" firms was rigidly enforced, and conditions, extraordinary even in a strike, developed. Grocery, coal, ice and meat were kept away from the firms involved. Even florists, except those delivering for funerals, were affected.

The hay, grain and feed drivers took action, shutting off the feed from all barns were strikes are on. Hundreds of horses stabled in the barns are threatened with starvation.

Railway express companies and their patrons were especially hampered. At the headquarters of the Railway Express Wagon Drivers' Union hundreds of requests were received by telephone and by business men in person, asking that permission be given to make shipments, and complaints were made that their business was injured and money lost.

One restaurant keeper begged that he be allowed to receive a shipment of bread that had been started from Milwaukee Thursday night. The request was refused, and a strike threatened against the restaurant if the bread was taken out of the express company's office, because the shipment was made after the strike had been called.

At the Retail Department Store Drivers' Union complaints were made by scores of patrons of department stores that purchases made had not been delivered, and permission was asked to have goods delivered. All such requests were refused.

Taking Desperate Chances.

It is true that many contract colds and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment, and a knowledge of this fact leads others to take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention. It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality, makes the system less able to withstand each succeeding cold and paves the way for more serious diseases. Can you afford to take such desperate chances when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cure of colds, can be had for a trifle? For sale by Gibson & Timman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

SATURDAY EVENING, APRIL 29, 1905.

THE DEATH of General Fitzhugh Lee, which occurred in Washington last night, following closely the stroke of apoplexy he sustained at an early hour yesterday morning, has caused expressions of general regret throughout the country, especially in Virginia, his native State, and in Alexandria, which was virtually his city. Born in Fairfax county seventy years ago, he soon became as well-known in Alexandria as on his native heath. Inheriting a military spirit and genius, after receiving his West Point training he followed the trend of his mind throughout most of his life, at first fighting Indians, later in the defense of his State and in the evening of his life in the operations in Cuba during the recent conflict between the United States and Spain. Apart from his martial instincts he possessed with the powers of the soldier statesmanship, which manifested in official positions and on the forum. As Governor of his native State he fulfilled his stewardship with honor to the Commonwealth and credit to himself, while as a representative of the United States in Cuba at a critical period in the country's history, he showed untiring zeal in the interest of his government and his people. As the sands of his life were nearly run General Lee, still looking after the interests of the Old Dominion, was working assiduously in behalf of the coming Jamestown exposition, and when death overtook him he was found endeavoring to further the interests of Virginia. While the projectors have lost a mighty worker in that movement, it is hoped the affair will be pushed with increased vigor in remembrance of him whose heart was set upon the exposition. The offspring of an illustrious family in American history, he inherited military genius and statecraft, coupled with courtesy and pleasantry. He was easy of approach, friendly in deportment and naturally made lasting friendships wherever he went, the best evidence of which is the fact that he was popular in all parts of the country, and was esteemed by those of all political persuasions.

THE HIGHLY respectable citizens, the leading business and financial leaders and church pillars were held up as the most dangerous corruptionists in the paper read before the National Municipal League in Philadelphia Thursday by Dr. John B. Roberts on "The Real Cause of Municipal Corruption." In his paper Dr. Roberts said:

Study of municipal ills show their origin to be corporate greed fostered by personal selfishness and indifference of the citizen. The temper of the citizens makes the social, political and commercial atmosphere of the municipality. The claim that corruption in cities is due alone to allegiance to parties is evidently false, because state and national governments are as honeycombed with corruption as city councils. The same deals, lobbies and bribery are found in Congress, legislatures and town councils. Equally untrue is the assertion that ignorant voters, who sell their votes to those handling campaign funds, are the main factor in fraudulent elections. These are only the puppets of the political leaders, who must have the same intellectual strength, acumen and courage as are possessed by the captains of industry and the prominent men of affairs.

The above excoriations cannot be successfully controverted. If there were no buyers of voters there would be no sellers.

CHICAGO is convulsed by another strike, hundreds of policemen are now corralled at certain points ready to repress disorder, while many more conservators of the peace are compelled to ride in delivery wagons with rifles in their laps in order that goods may be carried from one part of the city to another. There is a mighty struggle on between the teamsters' union and their sympathizers and the merchants concerning the maintenance of the open shop, and about one million dollars has been contributed by the latter to be spent in furthering their object. Both sides say it will be a fight to a finish, and the outcome is awaited with interest.

A WOMAN in Washington is suing the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad Company and Wm. J. Zeh for $2,000 for damages by coal dust to women's garments occasioned by unloading coal. Should the plaintiff recover the damages sought there may be similar actions in Alexandria, as complaints of people living contiguous to the Southern Railway depot and on Wilkes, Henry and Fayette streets, are loud in their complaints of the clouds of smoke which often envelop their houses.

Earthquake Shocks.

Geneva, April 29.—An earthquake was felt throughout a great portion of Switzerland and southern France between two and three o'clock this morning. A series of severe shocks was felt and slight damage wrought to property in Geneva and Chamounix, France, and a number of towns in the Canton of Valois, in the upper valley of the Rhone. No casualties have been reported.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., April 29.

When the International Railway Congress opens here next week, America will for the first time entertain the eminent railroad men of the world in one of their quin-quennial gatherings. There will be offered in conjunction with the formal meetings of the Congress an ocular demonstration of all that is wonderful in American railroad science in the shape of the American Railway Appliance Exhibition. For this undertaking the manufacturers of railroad goods have clubbed together and made a small world's fair near the Washington monument. The manufacturers say the exposition will represent an outlay of over a million dollars, while the space occupied by exhibits will be greater than that devoted to similar displays at any of the world's fairs.

The changes in the United States diplomatic service in South America announced today have been in contemplation for some time, but action has been hastened by the publication of the charges made by Minister Bowen, at Caracas, against the official integrity of Assistant Secretary of State Loomis, during the time that he was U. S. Minister at the Venezuelan capital. With promptness and decision, acting upon the advice of Secretary Taft, the President directed by telegraph that orders should be sent to Minister Bowen to return to Washington at the earliest moment possible. A cablegram to that effect was sent this morning. It was signed by Mr. Loomis, who, as acting Secretary of State transmitted the orders of the President. Minister Bowen will be required to make good his charges against Secretary Loomis. If he fails he will be dismissed from the diplomatic service. As foreshadowed in these dispatches yesterday Minister W. W. Russell has been selected to succeed Minister Bowen at Caracas. Mr. Russell is from Rockville, Md., and while his service in the diplomatic corps has been comparatively brief it has been eminently satisfactory in every post he has filled. Minister John Barrett, now stationed at Panama, has been transferred to Bogota where he will take up the work begun by Mr. Russell of improving the friendly relations with Colombia. He will be succeeded at Panama by Judge Chas. E. Magoon the newly appointed governor of the Panama Canal Zone, who will also take over the diplomatic duties of Minister.

Miss Mathilde Townsend, daughter of Mrs. Richard Townsend, is ill with appendictis, and the gossips of the older society set are again whispering the story of "the ourse" which has long hovered over the mansion occupied by the Townsend family. Years ago, it seems, the family who formerly owned the property became poverty stricken and the ancestral home was sold over their heads, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Townsend bought it in, for it was at Massachusetts and Florida avenues, one of the most fashionable parts of the town, and made preparations to erect a magnificent residence on the site of the century-old structure occupied by the late tenants. announcement of the Townsend plans appeared in the papers, and just before the work of wrecking was to begin, Mrs. Townsend received a call from an old woman, a member of the family that had been dispossessed. "Do not dare to destroy our old home" the visitor said. "If you do, I will lay my curse upon you and yours." Mrs. Townsend, it is said, was as impressed with the old woman's warning that she made a remarkable change in her building plans. She ordered the new house built around the old. Every brick in the walls of the ancient house remained where it was but not a vestige of the old home could be seen either from without or within. Marble walls surrounded the weather beaten bricks and the interior of the ancient pile was torn out to make way for the partitions and furnishings of what was at the time the most magnificent home in the Capital. But "the curse" was not to be evaded by thus obeying the letter of the warning and violating its spirit. In a very short time Mr. Richard Townsend fell from his horse and was killed. Since his widow and daughter have lived in constant dread of sorrows yet to come. Although the family physician is now cheering Mr. Townsend by telling her that Miss Mathilde's case is not likely to terminate fatally, the poor woman is said to have declared that she has abandoned hope. "Where will the curse strike next?" the gossips are asking.

A fire in the President's office building adjoining the White House caused excitement but no damage this morning at 9:30 o'clock. The trouble started when attendants built a wood fire in the fireplace in the room usually occupied by Secretary to the President, Loeb, but now the headquarters of Assistant Secretary Barnes. An accumulation of soot blazed up and sent a pillar of flames ten feet into the air. An engine was summoned and a steam from the "chemical" down the chimmey put an end to the incident.

Another Murder Mystery.

New York, April 29.—The entire detective force are at work today trying to solve the mystery surrounding the death of Mrs. Margaret Whalen, aged 75, who was found dead in bed at her residence, 322 east 101st street, this morning. The woman had been dead for several days, and from the position of the body the police believe that she is the victim of a murderer. The woman's head was wrapped in bandages and her face and waist were covered with blood. At the side of the bed, an axe was found. Captain Dennis Brennan has sent out a general alarm for a German, whose name he will not make public, at the present time, who, he thinks, can throw some light on the mystery.

Board of Education.

Three sessions were held in Richmond yesterday by the State Board of Education, devoted mainly to tentatively selecting superintendents where there are no strenuous contests. Where these occur, no action was taken. As stated yesterday the board was retarded in its work by the sickness of Gov. Montague, who is suffering from a neuralgic affection, and by the absence of Mr. John T. West, who returned to his home yesterday afternoon because of the illness of a relative. According to W. A. Bowles, a member of the board, the superintendents elected will not be announced before June 1, when the May educational campaign will be over.

The school board, before adjourning last night, decided to investigate the charges of J. D. Eggleston, jr., a candidate for the office of superintendent of public instruction, which are to the effect that an exorbitant charge has for years been made for the teachers' register, and that there has been carelessness in other directions. Mr. Eggleston has been invited to appear and make a statement.

Twelve Men Killed.

Twelve men were killed and one will die as the result of an explosion at the Eleanora shaft, near Big Run. The shaft is located one-and-a-half miles from Big Run, on the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg Railway, 12 miles south of Dubois, Pa. It is in an isolated part of the county, and the explosion, which occurred Thursday night, was not known in Dubois until yesterday. The mine is owned and operated by the Rochester and Pittsburg Coal and Iron Company, and is a comparatively new shaft, having been opened two years ago.

The mine was thought to be free from dangerous gases. The night shift was small, or there would have been more fatalities. Every man who was in the mine at the time of the explosion except one is reported killed. Three bodies have thus far been recovered. Two of them were English-speaking and resided at Eleanora, a small mining village two miles from the shaft.

Mysterious Disappearance.

E. J. Dempsey of Winchester, Va., and a former merchant of that place, has mysteriously disappeared from Bellefonte, Pa., where he was in business, and his wife believes he has met with foul play. When Mrs. Dempsey left her husband several months ago he was in good health and spirits. On Thursday she received a letter from a lawyer in Bellefonte asking if she knew anything of the whereabouts of her husband, as he had disappeared. Mrs. Dempsey has not heard from her husband for over four weeks. His business, it is said, was in good shape.

Death of General Lee.

General Fitzhugh Lee, who was stricken with apoplexy about 2 o'clock yesterday morning while on a train en route from Boston to Washington, died at 11:20 last night at Providence Hospital.

His death came suddenly. At 9 o'clock last night Major Guy L. Edie, of the Army Medical Staff, who had charge of the case, issued a bulletin stating that General Lee's respiration was 32, his temperature 98.8 and his pulse 112.

General Lee's pulse was 126 yesterday morning. Last night it had come down to 112. There had been no particular change in his condition since morning. He had taken some nourishment in the shape of milk. He was conscious and conversed, but breathing was difficult and articulation was thick.

Major J. R. Kean, Major Charles F. Mason, of the army, and Dr. Hardin were in consultation with Major Edie over the case.

At 11:15 last night Drs Kean and Edie reported that General Lee's condition had taken a turn for the worse. His breathing became difficult and the pulse was not so good. A few minutes later he was dead.

At his bedside when he died were his brother, Daniel N. Lee, and Drs. Edie and Kean. The end came quite suddenly and was without pain.

Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee and two of the daughters will arrive today from Fort Oglethorpe, near Chickamauga Park. These daughters are: Virginia Lee and Ellen, the wife of Lieutenant Rhea, who is stationed at Chickamauga. Lieut. George Mason Lee, a son, who married a daughter of General Burton, and Lieutenant Brown and his wife, who was formerly Miss Annie Lee, are in San Francisco. They have left for the East. Lieutenant Brown and Lieut. George Lee are both attached to the Seventh cavalry, which has been ordered to sail for the Philippines on Sunday. Their orders have been countermanded. Lieutenant Brown and his wife have been spending their honeymoon on the Pacific coast, and but for a delay in sailing they would now be on their way to the Orient. All of General Lee's children except Lieut. Fitzhugh Lee, jr., who is in the Philippines, will go to Washington as fast as trains can bring them.

As was stated in yesterday's Gazette, General Lee was on the Federal express when he was stricken, the train being near a terminal of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, in the vicinity of the Harlem river. He first complained of a pain about the heart, which was diagnosed, but later he sustained a serious stroke of paralysis, affecting his entire left side. The train was transferred to Jersey City and the Pullman car Ludlow, in which General Lee rode, was brought all the way to Washington. Several physicians ministered to the general during the run between Jersey City and Washington.

Gen. Lee left Washington several weeks ago in the interest of the Jamestown Exposition, for which he had been working very hard. He at that time said he felt in the best of health. He had just returned from western States, where he had succeeded in interesting legislature in the exposition and after leaving Washington he went north, appearing before the legislatures of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York, seeking State appropriations for the exposition. He was in Boston Thursday to advocate the representation of Massachusetts in the exposition and in the afternoon appeared before the legislative committee on federal relations, making a strong address in favor of the erection of a State building by Massachusetts at the exposition.

Gen. Fitzhugh Lee was the son of Sidney Smith Lee (a brother of Robert E. Lee) who was an officer in the United States navy and afterward in the Confederate navy. He was the great-grandson of Light Horse Harry Lee, and on his mother's side the great grandson of George Mason, who drafted the bill of rights of Virginia and stood shoulder to shoulder with Patrick Henry in the formative part of our colonial history.

Fitzhugh Lee was born at Clermont, Fairfax county, Va., November 19, 1835. He was graduated from West Point in 1856 and chose the cavalry, the arm of the service that had been the choice of his dashing ancestor. He began his service as a line officer in that wonderful regiment of the old regular army—the Second Cavalry.

The regiment's first colonel was Albert Sidney Johnston, who became famous as a general in the Confederate army. Robert E. Lee was lieutenant colonel. The senior major was William J. Hardee, author of "Hardee's Tactics," and the next ranking major was George H. Thomas, now known to fame as "The Rock of Chickamauga," because he held the gap at Rossville while the Union army, cut to pieces, retreated back upon Chattanooga. Van Dorn, another famous soldier, was a major in the old Second calvary. E. Kirby Smith was captain of the troop in which Fitzhugh Lee served.

General Lee's experiences in fighting Comanchee Indians have often been told, and his valiant actions in encounters with the savages are a part of history.

The deceased resigned his commission as an officer in the United States army May 21, 1861, and he at once entered the Confederate service, acting as General Ewell's adjutant general at the first battle of Bull Run.

His brillant career afterward in the Army of Northern Virginia, as one of the most dashing generals of cavalry this country has ever seen, was owing in large degree, no doubt, to his excellent training and great experience on the plains of Texas in the historic Second cavalry of the old army of the United States.

In the Confederate army Fitzhugh Lee was first assigned to staff duty and speedily became adjutant general of Ewell's brigade. Subsequently he was commissioned lieutenant colonel of the First Virginia cavalry, and later was made colonel, participating in all of the campaigns of the Army of Northern Virginia. On July 25, 1862, he was made brigadier general, and about a year later he became a major general. He was a conspicuous figure in the battle of Winchester, on which occasion three horses were shot under him and he was severely wounded.

After several months spent in the hospital he returned to the field, and in March, 1865, he was placed in command of the entire cavalry corps of the Army of Northern Virginia. Lee displayed skill as well as courage as a cavalry leader. At Farmville, near Appomattox, he led a brilliant charge, which drove back General Crook's cavalry division, and held the key to the situation until Sheridan and Ord arrived with federal reinforcements and put an end to the struggle. On the following day Gen. Robert E. Lee and General Grant settled the terms of the surrender of the Confederate forces.

After the close of the war Fitzhugh Lee retired to his home in Stafford county and prepared to devote himself to peaceful pursuits. Like a true soldier, he accepted the result philosophically and counseled his neighbors to return to their several industries and make the best of the situation.

General Lee was elected governor of Virginia in 1885, and his campaign was a succession of personal ovations ending in a gratifying majority. His opponent was Capt. John S. Wise. After he had served his term as governor his friends undertook to secure his election as United States senator, but existing political combinations were too powerful to be overcome.

During President Cleveland's first term he appointed General Lee one of the members of the board of visitors at West Point, and in 1896 made him Consul General at Havana.

General Lee was retained as consul general to Havana by President McKinley because the President and his cabinet convinced themselves that under the circumstances they could not get as well equipped a man to take his place.

When General Lee left his post at Havana, just before the outbreak of the Spanish war, his trip in Washington was a succession of ovations by day and night. At Washington he was greeted as the hero of the hour, and President McKinley took occasion more than once to compliment him for his ability in dealing with the trying conditions that had existed in Havana. General Lee was soon commissioned as a major general of volunteers, and after the treaty of peace returned to Cuba, where he carried out his promise that he would ride into Havana at the head of American troops.

General Lee leaves five children—Ellen, Fitzhugh, George, Anne and Virginia Lee. Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee is a daughter of the late George D. Fowle., of this city, and spent most of her early life here.

Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee and two daughters, Mrs. James T. Rhea and Mrs. Lewis Brown, left Chattanooga, Tenn., last night at 10:30 for Washington to attend the bedside of Gen. Lee. When they left Chattanoogo they did not know of Gen. Lee's death, and the news was not told them until the train reached Cleveland.

Mrs. Lee has been at Fort Oglethorpe, the new army post at Chickamauga Park, for several weeks, visiting her daughters, who are the wives of officers in the Seventh cavalry which is stationed there. Mrs. Lee and her two daughters are due to arrive in Washington 9:50 tonight.

Although it is not yet definitely settled where Gen. Lee will be buried, nor will it be till Mrs. Lee reaches Washington, it is more than probable that the interment will be at Hollywood, Richmond. The family lot where Gen. Lee's father, mother and brothers are buried is in Christ Church cemetery, this city, but the impression among the general's friends here is that he will be buried in Hollywood.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Late General Lee.

[Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Va., April 29.—At the instance of the governor, who is still sick and was unable to attend the conference of the State and city officers held today upon the death of Gen. Lee, the result was that Lieut. Gov. Williard, acting for the State, and Mayor McCarthy, for the city of Richmond, went to Washington to try to secure the burial here. If successful the body will lie in state in St. Paul's Church. Flags are at half-mast over the governor's office and the City Council, and Confederate camps will meet tonight to take action. Gen. Lee expressed a desire to lie in Hollywood and had tentatively selected a lot therein.

Richmond, Va., April 29.—In his life time General Fitzhugh Lee repeatedly expressed the desire to be buried in Hollywood cemetery here, and even went so far as to negotiate for the purchase of a square. He had nearly concluded such purchase last year, when he took hold of the Jamestown Exposition project and removed with his family to Norfolk. He favored a site adjacent to the square in which the Confederate President, Jefferson Davis, is buried, and close to the grave of Dr. J. L. M. Curry, the publicist and southern educator.

A meeting of officials of the State government was held at 11 o'clock today, at which a committee was appointed to go to Washington this afternoon to ask Mrs. Lee to let the body be buried in Hollywood. The City Council is called to meet at four o'clock Sunday afternoon to unite in this invitation and to offer the City Hall for use as the temporary resting place for the body of the distinguished soldier.

A military funeral on a scale of unusual splendor is planned. The Wednesday Club Music Festival, will close Tuesday night, with singing of a requiem in honor af Lee's memory. The Boston Festival Symphony orchestra and noted soloists will take part and the audience will stand at solemn intervals.

Washington, April 28.—Arrangements for the funeral of General Fitzhugh Lee are in abeyance until the arrival here this evening of the widow and those of the children who will be able to reach the city. The War Department is prepared to assist with all the details of a full military pageant in honor of the deceased general, in case it is decided to make the interment in Arlington cemetery. It is believed, however, that strong influence will be brought to bear on the family to have the illustrious general buried at Richmond, Virgina. Only a few Confederate veterans have been buried in the national cemetery which occupies the site of the ancestral home of the Virginia Lees. In case the interment is at Richmond, regular troops will be unable to participate, as there is none stationed in that vicinity.

The Chicago Strike.

Chicago, April 29.—Chicago employers will today test the regard of striking teamsters and other employees for the federal injunction granted yesterday by Judge Kohlsaat. General Manager Edwin T. Reed, of the Employers Teaming Company, said that five hundred drivers will be sent out today with the injunction as their only protection. The employers rely upon the courts power to enforce its mandates. A Washington dispatch last night said that in case the strike gets beyond the control of the municipal and State authorities, Governor Dineen's requisition for federal assistance will be promptly honored. Should the strike sympathizers or mobs interfere with the transportation of the mails, the federal troops will be called into service. Dry goods houses and express companies delivered goods to all parts of the city and suburbs during last night, free from interference and with little police protection. The United States Express Company wagons had a guard of thirty policemen but they had nothing to do.

President Shea, of the Teamsters' Union, does not favor the idea of troops in the city. At midnight, he sent the following telegram to Secretary Taft, and to Col. Yeatman, commanding the post at Fort Sheridan:

"The international Brotherhood of Teamsters will furnish union drivers without compension for all wagons doing a government business. They will obey orders issued by any teaming contractors for the United States government."

Shea also spoke against the plan which had gained some prominence of calling out the freight handlers at the railway depots. "We don't want the freight handlers to quit," he said. "If they did, it would throw all the teamsters of Chicago out of business." Mayor Dunne feels able at the present time to control the strike situation.

States Attorney Healy has been investigating the strike and says if evidence of a conspiracy to boycott business firms or restrain trade is found, the grand jury will return indictments. The grand jury will submit its final report today.

Several disturbances are reported today in which the participants received injuries, mostly of a minor nature.

The packers have delivered an ultimatum to their drivers, that they must deliver goods to boycotted firms or suffer discharge. This means a spread of the strike to the stock yards.

President Roosevelt may be appealed to end the strike as he did in the case of the anthracite coal mines. A resolution asking the President to step in and force the employers to arbitrate and so avert the necessity of bringing troops to Chicago, will be introduced in the Chicago Federation of Labor at a special meeting this afternoon.

At 12:30 p. m. a double riot call was turned in from Madison and Market streets. Fifty shots have been fired.

Reports of violence attending the efforts of the employers to move wagons continue to be received at the police headquarters.

Train Wrecked.

Greenville, S. C., April 29.—A special train bearing Robert C. Ogden and a party of prominent New Yorkers, returning from Columbia, S. C., was wrecked near here today. W. W. Canning, a cook, was caught in the wreck and burned to death. Several of the guests were more or less slightly injured. The train, which was composed of ten cars, left Columbia this morning for this city, where the party was to be received by the Mayor. The train was composed of one baggage car, a smoker, two dining cars, six compartment cars, and an observation car. Mr. Ogden, who is a member of John Wanamaker's firm, had just been elected President of the Conference for Education in the South. News of the wreck was received here and a wrecking train and a party of physicans were dispatched to the scene. Details of the wreck have not been received. Four of the ten cars were burned. Some of the injured were pinned under the wreck.

The Ogden special was running into the city at a rapid rate of speed, on the Southern Railroad, when a switch engine with some cars backed out on the main track. In the collision which followed, the engines were wrecked, and the baggage cars and two dining cars were piled up in a heap and set on fire. The accident occurred shortly before eight o'clock.

Washington, D. C., April 29.—Superintendent of Transportation Seale of the Southern Railroad said at noon today that his reports deny that any cars had been burnt in the Greenville wreck, and failed to state that anyone had been killed or burned to death.

To Reconstruct Navy.

St. Petersburg, April 29.—The preliminary steps for the reconstruction of the Russian navy have been taken by the government. Rumors as to the intentions of the Czar on this subject have been circulated for several months, and these have been increased in the last few days by the visit of American steel experts and shipbuilders, to Tsarskoe-Selo, where they were received by the Czar. Nothing in regard to the actual plans was made known until today, however. It is now stated that orders have been placed in Germany for a number of torpedo boats. One battleship, two cruisers and eighteen submarines will be laid down in Russian shipyards in the near future. It is probable that these vessels will be constructed under the supervision of Americans. No orders for the construction of battleships in America have been given yet.

Nan Patterson.

New York, April 29.—Nan Patterson spent a rather poor night, and this morning scarcely touched her breakfast. Her sister, Mrs. Julia Smith, is in the same plight. The two young women this morning denied themselves to all callers, except their father and their counsel.

Nan apparently realizes that her sister, Julia, did all that she could for her in the predicament in which she found herself at the close of the case, yesterday. Neither of the women had any idea that Mr. Rand was going to confront them with any jewelry that was placed with Hyman Stern by J. Morgan Smith. Mr. Levy also was ignorant of these pledges, otherwise he would not have attempted to cross examine Mrs. Smith, thereby opening the doors for Mr. Rand to drag in the jewelry. The District Attorney's office is confident that Nan will be convicted of homicide in one of the degrees. They will be perfectly satisfied if the jury finds her guilty of manslaughter in the second degree. That would mean some sort of punishment for Nan, and what is more important, to Mrs. Young, and other members of the Young's family, the stigma of suicide would be removed.

Mr. Levy and others of the accused chorus girl's counsel, on the other hand, are just as confident of an acquittal. Mr. Levy declared today that the one reason for not calling any witnesses for the defense is because the State has failed to make out its case.

Attacked by Would-be Suicide.

Quincy, Mass., April 29.—Andrew Mischler met with a very exciting experience late yesterday, while endeavoring to prevent a man from committing suicide and, after having succeeded in his efforts, he was assaulted by the would-be suicide, and received hard usage. Mr. Mischler was passing through Goffe street, and saw a man in a tree on Wasiay road. Suddenly the man jumped from the tree and then Mischler noticed that he was suspended by a rope, with his feet dangling several inches from the ground. He rushed to the place and cut the man down. The stranger was apparently greatly angered at not being able to accomplish his desire, and he turned upon Mischler, knocked him down and jumped upon him and ran off in the direction of Adams with the rope still dangling about his neck. The would-be suicide is described as being about 35 years old.

Killed in Melee.

London, April 29.—A dispatch to the Central News from Odessa, says during a meeting of an ambulance society, to discuss the inadequacy of the measures being taken by the government to prevent the spread of cholera epidemic, eight police spies were discovered in the building where the meeting was being held. The doctors attacked the spies vigorously. A sotnia, or company of Cossacks, was called to the spot and dispersed the meeting. Two women, medical students, were killed in the melee and seven others were seriously injured.

The Fishery.

Affairs at Fishtown were unchanged again this morning. Plenty of herring are being caught but prices are too low to net the fishermen profit. Shad are as scarce as ever and prices are virtually unchanged. Perch, black bass, rock and other pan fish still bring fancy prices.

The present fishing season, like that which preceded it, has, so far, been disappointing in the catch of shad. While an average number of herring have entered the Potomac, shad have been scarce with no signs of an increase. Prices consequently continue high—rather too high for general consumption. April has nearly run its course, and by this time this favorite fish should have been plentiful and cheap. Several theories have been advanced in explanation of the recent scarcity of shad. Some have suggested that the placing of black bass in the river was a mistake, as they, it is alleged, eat the young shad, but they would eat young herring also, and the fact that there has been a plethora of this species refutes the charge against the black bass.

Farewell Exhibition.

Members of Troop C, United States Cavalry, gave what they term a "farewell exhibition" at Fort Myer yesterday afternoon, in commemoration of their intended departure for the Philippines. The exhibition included fancy and trick riding, on horses both saddled and bareback, and the soldiers gave a miniature Buffalo Bill exhibition of horsemanship, as is taught by the government. The troop was divided into two squads, one commanded by Lieutenant Humphreys, which gave exhibitions of regular cavalry rough riding, and the other commanded by Lieutenant Montgomery, displayed the skill of the members of the troop in riding bareback. The exhibition was an open affair, and a large crowd of the friends of the troop was present at the grounds.

Methodist Protestant Church.

The Methodist Protestant Church, of this city, will on tomorrow celebrate its 76th anniversary with appropriate ceremonies. The church has been very prettily decorated for the occasion. Rev. F. T. Benson, D. D., a former pastor, and a man of recognized ability and eloquence will occupy the pulpit Sunday morning. Mr. J. G. Rockwood, a well known layman from Washington D. C., will deliver an address at the evening service on "The Rank and File of the Church." Under the administration of the present pastor, Rev. J. H. S Ewell, the church is in a prosperous condition, both financially and spiritually.

The subject is "Evolution and Progress." On Monday and Tuesday the lectures will be at 5:30 p. m., and on Wednesday at 12 m. Lieutenant Gillmore is on duty at the Brooklyn navy yard, and Mrs. Gillmore is residing with her mother, Mrs. M. D. Ball, in Alexandria county. Governor Montague

Governor Montague will not be in this city next week, as has been stated, owing to circumstances over which he has no control. The Governor, however, intends to visit Alexandria at an early day, due notice of which will be given.

Charges Against the Electric Road

City Attorney Gardner L. Boothe recently filed with the Corporation Commission specific charges against the Washington, Alexandria & Mount Vernon Railway Company of discrimination and requesting that a fine be imposed upon the company. Mr. Boothe sets forth that, contrary to the orders of the commission, scheduled trains are annulled frequently, to the inconvenience and discomfort of people living in this city, in order that special excursion parties may be transported from Washington to Mount Vernon. Mr. Boothe states that he was informed that the regular 4:36 and 4:55 trains from this city to Washington passed through this city about on time on Thursday but people who were waiting to board them were not allowed to do so, and were informed that they were chartered for special excursion parties. It is also stated that between the hours of 1 and 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon regular passengers bound for this city were unable to get accommodations from Washington. The officers of the electric railway have been notified to appear before the Corporation Commission, in Richmond, on May 9th, to show cause why they should not be fined for non-compliance with the orders of the commission entered at its meeting in this city last February.

Negroes in a Fight.

About 11 o'clock this morning a fight took place on Fayette street, between Cameron and Queen, between James Williams and Henry Brown, both colored, during which beer bottles and stones were used by the combatants. Officer Young and Smith appeared while the fight was in progress and arrested the principals. Both were bleeding profusely and they attracted considerable attention on the way to the station house. The square bounded by Cameron, Queen, Fayette and Payne is a rendezvous for numbers of colored people, male and female, and it is often the scene of disorders. Several saloons and eating houses are located in the neighborhood.

Jumping on Cars.

The injury of a white boy and a colored girl by a bicycle accident on lower King street Thursday evening has called attention to another dangerous diversion on that thoroughfare which is indulged in late in the afternoon and early in the night. Numbers of boys jump on and off electric cars while in motion on King street. Sooner or later a serious accident will occur to one or more of these young ones. The police endeavor to stop the practice, but the parents of the juveniles should interest themselves in the matter

Suicide of a Colored Boy.

Horace Strother, a seventeen-year-old colored boy, who lived with his parents at 312 north Alfred street, committed suicide by shooting himself in the left breast with a pistol about 9 o'clock last night. No cause is assigned for the act, though it is said that he was of a nervous temperament and some persons had in a playful way told him they intended to lynch him. Dr. Purvis had the remains removed to the undertaking establishment of William Demaine & Son.

Death of an Alexandrian.

Mr. Henry B. Grigg, a former resident of this city, died in Washington yesterday. He was in his 64th year. The deceased was a son of the late Joseph Grigg, and a brother of Conductor J. M. Grigg, Mr. Blake Grigg and the late Jos. L. Grigg. In early life he became an apprentice in the Gazette office, and was working as a journeyman when the federal troops occupied this city in 1861. He later removed to Washington where he had since resided. He leaves several children.

The Market.

Rain materially interfered with the market this morning, and the animation was not as pronounced as that of last Saturday. The supply of country produce, while about equal to the demand, was by no means large, and prior of last week prices were maintained. Spring vegetables have been coming in freely and prices are reasonable. There was an abundance of flowers (mostly lilacs) on exhibition.

German.

The final dance of the Alexandria German Club was given at McBurney's Hall last night, and was one of the most delightful affairs of the season. Judge Barley led the german and over twelve hundred favors, many of them unique and handsome, were distributed. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion and a delightful supper was served.

At the meeting of the Christ Church vestry held last night Messrs. W. A. Smoot and H. F. Robertson were elected wardens, Mr. G. L. Boothe registrar and Mr. C. H. Yohe treasurer. Mr. L. M. Blackford was elected delegate, and Mr. W. A. Smoot alternate to the Episcopal Conference which meet in Charlottesville next month.

Urged to Pay Taxes.

Mr. J. Taylor Ellyson, chairman of the State democratic committee, has addressed a letter to Mr. G. L. Boothe of this city, a member of the committee, calling attention to the unsatisfactory conditions in reference to the payment of poll taxes by the democrats of the State. Mr. Ellyson says his information from various portions of the State is that the republicans are active in the matter, and he suggests that the democrats should equally exert themselves within the next week, in order that every suffragan may become qualified to vote in the State primary and general election.

Dumas and His Economical Son.

Alexandre Dumas, the great French story writer, was very fond and proud of his son Alexandre, who also became a famous author. His regard for him was increased apparently by the fact that the son had a very good appreciation of the value of money, a quality which the father did not possess in the slightest degree.

A writer of recollections relates that he once visited Dumas at St. Germain. He had just been bitten in the hand by his dog and was unable to write, but was dictating a novel.

His son went out as the visitor came in.

"Alexander has just left me," said the father. "What a good fellow that boy is! Just fancy, this morning I received 650 francs. He said to me, 'I'll take 50 francs of it.' I didn't quite hear and thought he was going to leave me only 50. So I called out: 'Hold on! Let me have 100 of it at least!' 'But I tell you I'm only going to take 50!' he called out. 'Oh, oh,' said I, 'I thought you were going to take the 600. Well, take as much as you want.' "

And Dumas added proudly, "What a golden hearted fellow Alexandre is, to be sure!"

It Wasn't a Dream.

Archbishop Thompson was greatly surprised when he was given the archdiocese of York. He had been suffering acutely from toothache and upon medical advice had resorted to narcotics. After a particularly bad night he set out for his doctor, though his wife had besought him not to submit to further narcotics, as after them he was "not himself" for some hours. On the way he met the postman, who handed him a letter announcing his preferment from Gloucester to York. He rushed back and burst excitedly into the house, the toothache all forgotten. "Zoe, Zoe!" he cried. "What do you think has happened? I am archbishop of York!" "There, what did I tell you?" rejoined his wife. "You've been taking that horrible narcotic again and are quite out of your head."

The Marble Bible of Burma.

Great as has been the amount of labor expended on the various Bibles of the world, the palm for execution must be given to the Kutho-daw, which is a Buddhist monument near Mandalay, in Burma. It consists of about 700 temples, each containing a slab of white marble on which the whole of this Buddhist Bible, containing over 8,000,000 syllables, has been engraved. The Burmese alphabet is used, but the language is Pali. This wonderful Bible is absolutely unique. The Kutho-daw was erected in 1857 by Mindon-min, the last king but one of Burma. The vast collection of temples together form a square, with a dominating temple in the center. Each of the marble slabs on which the sacred text is inscribed is surmounted by an ornamental canopy in pagoda form.

Cook Island Laws.

There are some strange laws in the Cook islands, in the eastern Pacific. The population is Maori and each island legislates for itself. The island council of Manihiki, one of the group, has in force an ordinance to regulate village life within the island. It begins by re-enacting "the ancient law of Manihiki as to dogs" and sentencing to death any dogs on the island. Pigs are not to wander at large, and any person going about after 9 p. m. may be arrested and taken to the courthouse to explain his reason for being abroad. No debt incurred by a native inhabitant is to be recoverable in any court. Selling or giving intoxicating liquor to any native inhabitant is punishable with a fine of $50.

Funerals In Scotland.

In Scotland the custom still prevails of taking down the window blinds at a death and hanging white sheets across the windows. The custom also prevails in the north of England, and in many families a special sheet reserved for the death chamber is kept for the purpose and often used from generation to generation. In many parts of Scotland, too, it is still customary for the nearest relatives of the deceased to lower the body into the gave and wait by the side until the grave is filled up.—Westminster Gazette.

Bret Harte as a Consul.

Bret Harte's consulship at Glasgow was a sort of joke. William Black told me that once when he was returning from a tour with Harte as they slowly entered a city Bret said, "What huge, ugly place is this?"

"It is," said Black, "the city in which you have been consul four years."—Moncure Daniel Conway's Autobiography.
